CHAFED CHEESE
When you're having the gang over for an after-dinner snack or a light Sunday night supper, chafed cheese makes a hot, easy-to-serve dish. It can be served pretzels and piping hot—in a chafed dish at the table.

1 cup margarine
1 cup milk
1 cup grated sharp cheese
1 cup sliced, cooked mushrooms
2 cans tomato soup
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 teaspoon pepper
A hard-boiled egg, cut in quarters

You may use either fresh or canned mushrooms. Combine all ingredients except eggs in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Add and stir in hard-boiled eggs. This recipe makes eight servings.

Through the Keyhole

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

RENEWING childhood friendships, seeing one familiar face again and just looking on the front porch were all part of Margaret Garret Byrum's visit to her mother, Mrs. John Garrett. There was hardly time to squeeze in an hour for this picture, what with Margaret's trip to Auburn and other spots to visit the rest of the family.

But we did manage to get mother and son together for the Garrett home. My meeting with Margaret was brief, but sufficiently long for me to realize what a thoroughly nice person she is. She has inherited her mother's warm personality and graciousness and we felt that our acquaintance was an old one.

Managing her effervescent son Bobby in a calm manner, Margaret completely surprised me by saying that she had to return home to New York soon as her older son would be finishing his freshman year at Cornell. Just couldn't imagine her with a college age son. Before she left however, Margaret was entertained in the grand manner, one of the loveliest parties being given by Montgomery.

Because her husband was in Europe on business, Margaret was able to pay us this nice long visit. We hope she'll be back soon as we'd like to know her better. And we'd like to hear handsome Bobby sing—and hear something he does quite nicely.

THE occasion was a dinner party honoring Yvonne Bryan who was 12 on May 10. The dinner table was daintily set with white candles and a bouquet of white flowers and the whole atmosphere was quite festive.

Lucky enough to be enjoying this affair were some of the members of the young set—Henriette Dorsey, Janet Warr, Edna Kate Allen, Gary Hudson, Malcolm English, Bobby Tuman, Roger Winston and Michael Pick.

They all reported a wonderful evening and are looking forward to Yvonne's next birthday.

COLLEGE STUDENTS are returning home and it certainly looks nice to see them again. Miss English gave us his usual friendly greeting. Mary Ann Clark called to say "hello". Collected his fan mail at the post office. Kenneth King came by for a chat. A. C. Brunson reported a marvelous time at Troy and Jimmy Bowdoin still has that engaging smile. Have looked for Nina Hudson, Annie Jim Cornell, just couldn't imagine her with a college age son. Before she left however, Margaret was entertained in the grand manner, one of the loveliest parties being given by Montgomery.

NEWCOMERS and NEWLY-WEBS are Katie and Don Calloway, formerly of Oklahoma who are making their home in Elba. While Don works at Spartan Aircraft, taking the Calloways to church with us Sunday, we were charmed with their friendliness and quite happy to find them. Net. Katie has an outstanding voice and was entertaining at home in church. Only married for two weeks, Katie and Don are living in the Calloway garage apartment. We hope they like Elba.

And speaking of Spartan Aircraft it seems time to say some-will continue to be in our lives. NEWS OF INTEREST is the daughter of Myrtle W. Atty. Dunaway Class. While Mrs. C. Dunaway was visiting her daughter, Ann, the members of her class voted to name the interest shown in us and the inspiration she has been and rado, California and neighboring states. Our correspondent, however, is the vivacious Mary Elizabeth. On a post card from Pike's Peak, she wrote, "Mother was scared to death up here, a feeling I can well understand. When the 'As' return from their trip, Frances and the youngsters will go to Tusculum where Frances will continue work on her master's degree. Whit and his sister will spend the first six weeks on campus with her but will then go visiting—Whit to Headland and Mary Elizabeth to various friends all over the state, including us.

THE ALABAMA CHRISTIAN Advocate for May 24 had the pictures of the Methodist Bishop and the Alabama Conference cabinet. I was surprised at how many personal memories I recalled as I studied each face.

Dr. S. M. Baker was our Troy minister during the war. It was his only son Melvin, who took me to my first dance, who grew up to marry and give his life in the Korean dispute. Dr. Baker was the minister who performed our marriage ceremony. Dr. W. P. Calhoun of Montgomery has a lovely blonde daughter who went to Camp Grandview with me, summer after summer in those wonderful years when camp is more fun than anything else. Dr. A. E. Middlebrooks of Marianna was the Presiding Elder in Troy for five years and his daughter Barbara a very close friend.

And, last, Bishop Clare Purcell is the uncle of Nancy Gens Writers of Troy, and it was he who performed her marriage ceremony.

This cabinet will meet June 3 in Montgomery at Rev. Paul Duff's church. I know their decisions will be right. How could it be otherwise when they are all so nice?

All Chevrolet's competitors and most of the high-priced cars tried it recently in official NASCAR* trials—and took a licking!

Meet the champ! The new Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8" — the most modern V8 on the road today. Here's what happened—

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Acceleration Tests Over Measured Mile From Standing Start. Chevrolet captured the 4 top positions in its class! 8 of the first 11! And on a time basis Chevrolet beat every high-priced car, too—but one! But wait—this is just the beginning!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR 2-Way Straightaway Running. Open to cars delivered in Florida for $2,500 or less. Chevrolet captured the first two places, 7 out of the first 11 places!

Columbia, S. C. NASCAR 100-Mile Race on half-mile track. Very tight turns. Chevrolet finished first!

Fayetteville, N. C. NASCAR Late Model Event. Chevrolet again finished first. Because of even tighter turns the driver chose to run the entire 150 laps in second gear! Yet no overheating or pit stops!

These facts you can't laugh off. Sales leader. Road leader. A crowning achievement of Chevrolet and General Motors. Try a Chevrolet... and live in a land of going-away where you win all the arguments! Soon, maybe?

Renzo Bryan Gives True Age of The Clipper

Dear Mr. Cunningham:

I have just finished reading what you wrote last week about the age of The Clipper. However, you give it too many years. The paper was established in 1897, and therefore has not yet reached the Diamond stage. I'm sure if you will examine a little closer some of the issues of several years ago you will find in the mast head the line carrying the 1897 date. I carried it on The Clipper's letter heads for many years.

It's an easy matter for date lines, numbers, etc., to get off track, as you know printers are usually in a swivet on "press day," and it would be folly to try to say by whom or when such an error was made. (These errors are made in daily as well as weekly papers.) But the fact remains that the paper was established in 1897.

You are right though in saying that The Clipper was the oldest business establishment in Elba. And its weekly visits were interrupted only twice during the 45 years of my tenure with the paper. One of those interruptions was during the 1929 flood disaster when the paper missed four publications. That could be classified as a providential hindrance. The other interruption was about 1912 or 1913, when one week's publication was missed due to a management disagreement between the owners. Some weeks it may have been a little late, but the paper always came out.

With best wishes, I am Very truly yours, R. C. BRYAN

"Pot of Gold at the End of the Rainbow"

While the economy of the state and nation is as good health as it ever has been, one trend of vital influence to Coffee County farmers has developed. That is the fact that Mr. Average Man now eats more beef than he does pork. While per capita consumption of beef has made remarkable gains in the past three years, the amount of pork consumed has suffered on a percentage basis. Because of an increasing population, more hogs are raised but per capita consumption does not compare favorably with former years.

This means a good deal to Coffee County farmers because they have turned more and more to raising corn and feeding out hogs on acres idled by drastically curtailed cotton and peanut quotas.

Over a period of years, if the demand for hogs drops appreciably, it will have a serious effect on income of local farmers. Already hamstrung with impossibly small quotas of other farm products hurts more than it should.

Seeking security of income through price supports, farmers have actually destroyed part of their markets by creating a demand for their products. The dairy industry furnishes a good example of this with the high price they fixed on butter. It disappeared from the tables of the majority of American homes.

Growers of beef cattle turned their thumbs down on government help and put on a campaign to sell the American people the idea of "Eat More Beef." While operating on a slim margin, ranchers and cattle growers have opened new outlets for beef instead of trying to hide behind the shrinking mantle of government price supports.

The United States has a dynamic economy with everyone fighting for a share of the consumer's dollar. Farmers sitting behind the false security of price supports find their markets shrinking because they have promoted substitutes like the sales.

This is especially true of peanut oil. A well-managed sales campaign for this Southern product would open up vast new markets. Instead of getting out and fighting for their markets, some farmers think price supports are the "pot of gold at the end of the rainbow." Relaxing behind this temporary security measure, they sit idly by as more aggressive groups grab off the sales and expand the use of their products. So it went with peanut oil. Now aggressive merchandising by cattlemen is cutting into the market for pork.

Under Folsom State's Economy in Healthy Condition

A large segment of the Alabama press has been "pouring it on" the Jim Folsom administration since January and at least intimating his policies will lead the state to the brink of financial and social disaster. While we think it is fine that the newspapers are free to criticize the governor or parts of his program they don't play up a few facts that haven't been played up.

Pages of copy have been printed on the Governor himself, calling him everything from a pawn in the hands of his supporters to a would-be dictator. But while the storm of words rage through the newspapers, significant facts in the state's economy prove Alabama isn't headed for the scrap heap under the Folsom administration. In fact the business picture is bright indeed.

For one thing, sales tax collections continue to soar. That means merchants in the state are selling goods and services at a near record pace.

From October 1, 1954, through May 31, 1955, collections ran $1,625,929 higher than during the corresponding period of 1953-54.

During the period from May 6 through May 31, collections boosted the total increase from $1,130,594 to $1,625,929.

Solomon Qualities of School Board Members Listed

Neil Gross, head of the Harvard School of Executive Studies, says an "ideal" school board member is a sort of King Solomon who does everything quickly and cheaply, even when he knows nothing about it.

Gross told a conference of school board members that they should have:

1. A heart of gold, a mind of steel and a nervous system of elastic.
2. A built-in telephone holder on one shoulder and a tear absorber on the other.
3. The ability to make wise and penetrating decisions on subjects he doesn't know anything about.
4. The desire to be hooked by educational jargon.
5. The ability to tell parents that a straight line for a school bus is not necessarily door-to-door.
6. Connections to buy aspirin at a 50 per cent discount.
7. A notion of how to increase salaries, build new buildings and lower the tax rate all at the same time.
8. The wisdom to steer a course between the horse and buggy and space ship schools of education without splitting the child's personality.

In Coffee County, these qualities and the ability to stick with a decision once it is made are all needed. Along the lines recommended by a federal survey three years ago, further consolidation of small country schools is necessary. At their next meeting the board should lay the groundwork for closing these small, inefficient educational units. When a decision is reached as to which school will be closed next fall, the board should stick to its guns in telling angry school patrons what is best for them. A man can't be blamed for protesting the closing of a school in his community, but it still doesn't make him right.

In the federal survey, it was recommended that Basin, Pine Level and Newbia, to mention three, should be consolidated with other schools to save money and provide better education for the students. Serious consideration should be given this recommendation before the next school year starts.

MOTHERS CLUB

One of the first events of the vacation months was the party the Mothers Club members gave for their children in the high school auditorium Friday night to which the girls wore evening dresses and the boys wore white dress shirts and ties and dark pants.

The mothers directed the group in playing games and in group singing. The refreshment table in the back of the auditorium was pretty with a white cloth cover and centered with a punch bowl embellished with greenery and stasia daisies.

Following a delightful evening of games and singing, the mothers served omelets, colored fruit punch and a variety of cookies.
